FOR THE YEAR ENDING

MAY 1, 1858.

NEW YORK:
JOHN F. TROW, PUBLISHER, 377 & 379 BROADWAY.
(Price $2 50.)

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1857, by
H. WILSON AND JOHN F. TROW,
In the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States, for the Southern District of New York.

Rep. (Bdg. No.) 180/03.

JOHN F. TROW, PRINTER, STEREOTYPER, AND ELECTROTYPER,
377 & 379 Broadway, cor. White Street.

PREFACE.

If the great public of New York, for whose special benefit the Directory is compiled, and to whom it is offered at a price which hardly pays the cost of producing it, did but co-operate with the publisher in his exertions to render it perfect, there would be no need of an introductory preface to explain any of its apparent imperfections. But, strange as the fact may seem to the majority of people, there are many persons who persistently withhold the required information in respect to their names, place of residence, and business. The reason for such reticence may, in some cases, be readily imagined. There are people whose ways of life render it particularly desirable that they should not be mentioned in the Directory; but there are many highly respectable business men whose sole object in withholding the required information concerning themselves, is the hope of escaping, thereby, the inconveniences of jury duty. But it is a great mistake to imagine that they can escape the performance of this necessary duty by any such means. It has been ascertained that the names of some thousands of citizens have been recorded as liable to the call for jury duty, which were not in the Directory of last year.

Each new Directory may well be imagined to be superior to the preceding one; for, although the work has all to be done anew, yet the experience of last year enables the compiler to avoid many errors the present year. One of the most common sources of mistakes in looking for names, is the prevalent method of individuals giving only the initial letter of their first names, while they write in full their second names: as, E. Jenkins Smith. This name in the DIRECTORY would read Smith E. Jenkins, which necessarily creates confusion in the mind of the reader as to the actual order in which the names should be placed. The proper way to avoid all mistakes would be for Mr. Smith to give his name in full to the collector; but many object to doing so, and will give only the initial of their first names; therefore, to avoid errors and confusion in all such cases, it has been found necessary to give only the initial letters of the first and second name, viz., Smith, E. J.

In giving the business of individuals, of course there can be no other motive than to distinguish them from others of the same name; but, in some instances, this rule, it will be observed, has been departed from. It can hardly be necessary to state, that in all such instances, the mention of anything more than just enough in relation to the business of an individual, has been paid for as an advertisement. The same advantage was open to all who chose to avail themselves of it.

The growth of the city adds, of course, yearly, to the cost of compiling the Directory, and increases its bulk; but the price has not been increased in proportion to the cost of producing it, and it will be found, on comparing it with other works of a similar character, or even with periodicals of a popular class, that THE DIRECTORY is one of the cheapest books published.

The following statistics of other city Directories will possess an interest beyond their value as exhibiting the difference between them and the NEW YORK DIRECTORY.

The Philadelphia Directory for 1857, contains 2,583,360 ems, and is sold at $2.

The Boston Directory for 1856 contains 2,011,128 ems, and is sold at $1.50.

Harpers' Magazine, which has a circulation of 170,000 copies, contains, in ten numbers, the price of which is $2.50, 5,070,000 ems.

The American edition of Irving's works, in fourteen volumes, the cost of which is $17.50, contains 6,074,960 ems.

The NEW YORK DIRECTORY for 1857–8 contains about 1,000 pages, 162,000 lines, 4,848,880 ems, and is sold at only $2.50, the same price as the Philadelphia Directory, though it contains nearly double the quantity of matter.

But, it is not to be supposed that any figures or statistics can be necessary to convince the public that the DIRECTORY is sold at a sufficiently low price. Its cheapness must be obvious to every business man, and those who have occasion most frequently to consult its pages will be the first to acknowledge its correctness, and the assistance it renders in the transaction of the ordinary affairs of life. The DIRECTORY diffuses its blessings like the Croton which runs through our streets; people stop to consult it as they do to quench their thirst at a public fountain and pass on. A Directory is a necessary appendage to every shop counter, to every counting-house desk, to every hotel, public office, bank, or insurance company. Like air and light, it is indispensable; and yet its cheapness, like those prime elements of existence, causes it to be lightly thought of. But, having in our last year's issue shown at some length the cost and care which are required in the production of the Directory, the publisher will rest content for the present with submitting the work to the public, with entire confidence in its being an improvement upon any previous issue, and as near an approach to perfection as possible.

NEW YORK, June, 1857.
